

What is photoblog?

Written by Administrator

Saturday, 16 May 2009 10:38 - Last Updated Saturday, 16 May 2009 10:39

A photoblog is a chronological log of photography, usually from a single photographer. Each photo in the log has a date associated with it. When you're looking at any photo in a photoblog

, you can generally navigate directly to the next older or next newer photo.

Photoblog

s also tend to have archives that allow you to view all the photos sorted by date.

(adapted from http://wiki.photoblogs.org/wiki/Photoblog_vs_Gallery)